Be selfish... for your sake support the steady advance of surgery

You, a relative or a close friend may one day be glad to rely upon the highest standards of surgical skill. Maintaining such standards is the responsibility of the Royal College of Surgeons. Totally independent, the College finances its projects largely through donations, covenants and legacies.

Post-graduate training programmes and rigorous examinations for surgical qualifications are controlled by the College. In addition, vital research is conducted in such fields as anaesthesia, arthritis, birth defects, blindness, cancer, dental decay, organ transplantation and thrombosis.

Your contribution will help to ensure that British surgery continues to flourish and to provide the highest standards of surgical skill in the world.